Aims and Scope:

European Political Science (EPS) is an international journal devoted to publishing contributions by and for the political science community. Its interpretation of “political science” is wide and encompasses comparative politics, political economy, international relations, public administration, political theory, European studies and related disciplines. It publishes pieces on how the discipline is, can be and ought to be.

EPS also includes more substantive pieces that provide a political science perspective on important current events. In addition to original articles, the journal carries shorter notes, review articles and symposia, progress reports on lively areas of research and profiles of people in the profession.

Online Features:

- Complete online archive available to purchase back to 2001.
- Advance online publication - definitive, citable version of papers (complete with DOI) available online ahead of print.
- European Political Science is indexed and/or abstracted in: International Bibliography of the Social Sciences (IBSS); CSA Worldwide Political Science Abstracts; European Sources Online; Gale; Infotrieve; OCLC; SCOPUS; Social Sciences Citation Index®; SwetsWise.

†2013 Journal Citation Reports® (Thomson Reuters, 2014)

European Political Science is a journal of the European Consortium for Political Research.