

TO OUR REVIEWERS... MUCHAS GRACIAS!

Suzanne Oboler

Editorial Office in Chicago

Our reviewers make an invaluable contribution toward ensuring the ongoing high quality and warm reception of our journal. Their rigorous, punctual, and balanced reviews of the latest publications in the field have assisted enormously in ensuring that we continue to be the foremost venue for scholarly conversations in the field of Latino Studies today.

As we begin our journal's third volume, we want to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to the reviewers of the articles we both published and considered for publication in Volume 2. We truly value your expertise and continued support of Latino Studies.

Thank you/muchas gracias...

Claudia Aburto-Guzmán
Marixsa Alicea
Alejandra Castañeda
Beth Baker-Cristales
Marta Baltodano
Rina Benmayor
John J. Betancur
Adrián Burgos
Ginetta Candelario
Leo Chávez
Antonia Darder
Héctor Cordero Guzmán
Carole Counihan
Susan Bibler Coutin
José E. Cruz
Nicholas De Genova

Maria de los Angeles Torres
Louis DeSipio
Luz Marina Diaz
Miguel Diaz-Barriga
Jorge Duany
Anani Dzidzienyo
Cristina Escobar
Marilyn Espitia
Raul Fernández
Henry Flores
Nilda Flores González
F. Chris García
Elizabeth García
John García
Velia García
Lisa García Bedolla

Suzanne Oboler

175

Manuel Gonzáles	Bárbara Robles
Patricia Hamm	Manuel Rodríguez
Ellie Hernández	Renato Rosaldo
Ester Hernández	Arturo Sánchez
Ramona Hernández	Lisa Sánchez González
Berta Hernández-Truyol	Nancy Saporta Sternbach
Dennis Judd	Blanca Silvestrini
Bridget Kevane	Rob Smith
Agnes Lugo-Ortiz	Michael Soldatenko
Mike Males	David Spener
Douglas Massey	Peter Spiro
Cecilia Menjívar	Silvio Torres-Saillant
Joseph Nevins	Bonnie Urciuoli
Amalia Pallares	Carlos Vargas-Ramos
Manuel Pastor	Francisco Vazquez
Emma Pérez	Carlos Velez-Ibañez
Viviana Rangil	Iris M. Young
Raymond Rocco

Latino Studies (2005) 3, 174–175. doi:10.1057/palgrave.lst.8600123